GENERAL CONDITIONS FOR PASSENGERS, TRANSPORTATION OF LUGGAGE AND VEHICLES

1) DEFINITIONS: The word "passenger" refers to each person travelling, based on a passenger ticket issued by the carrier and/or authorized agencies. The word "vehicle" refers to any vehicle being transported by the passenger and not for transportation of goods or freight; in the definition of "vehicle" it is also intended any eventual towage and/or camper that is subject to different tariff(s) due to cumbersome size and/or weight. The words "carrier" and/or "Company" refer to Tomaso's Transport & Tourism S.p.A. also mentioned as simply TTTLines. The carrier is committed to transporting the passenger and accompanied vehicles at the following general travelling conditions that are sufficiently advertised at authorized ticket sellers and/or by the "Carrier" and/or on board the ship and/or through website: www.tttlines.it and that, prior to ticket purchasing and/or booking, the passenger commits to thoroughly examining and observing. 2) REGULATION FOR TRANSPORT AND VALUITY: In addition to Regulation CE 392/2009 and to Regulation UE 1177/2010, transportation commitment is governed by art. 396 e segg. of the Navigation Code. (Please visit www.tttlines.it for details). The "Carrier" declines any responsibility for damages caused to passengers due to delay in non-execution of transport in the event of circumstances beyond the carrier's control, natural causes, bad weather conditions, strikes and any technical damage impeding the carrying out of the said transportation. For the liability regime in relation to transportation of passengers, automobiles, and for other non-foreseen vehicles not present in these general conditions, one must refer to the expressed norms in vigour found in the Italian Navigation Code, in Regulation UE 1177/2010 and according to the Italian Civil Code. Until disembarkation, passengers are responsible for their own luggage and contents. Passenger tickets are personal, neither assignable, nor transferable and valid only for the transportation indicated. Tickets must be diligently kept and guarded by passengers and must be exhibited upon the ship personnel's request. Any passenger without a ticket must immediately inform the Master and/or Purser. Failing to comply in addition to any additional damages, he/she shall be liable for double the payment for his/her transportation until the port of destination. 3) PRICE OF PASSAGE: The price indicated on the ticket is the carrier's tariff in vigour on the date of ticket issuance. Until ticket issuance, the company is entitled to modify prices in case of increases in fuel costs or port taxes and duties. In such a case, the passenger is entitled to recede the contract when the ticket increase amounts to more than 10%. Ticket price does not include meals that can be eaten at the restaurant and/or self-service which are all extra costs for which the passenger is responsible. Eventual embarkation and disembarkation taxes, where applicable, will be explicitly indicated on the passenger ticket. In order for a resident to benefit from the applicable reduction in price, he/she must submit proper and valid proof of identification at the time of booking/purchase of any ticket. 4) PRESENCE FOR EMBARKMENT: Time of embarkation, unless otherwise stated in writing, is two hours prior to scheduled time of departure for passengers with vehicles and one hour prior to scheduled time of departure for passengers without vehicles. Any passenger who is not present for embarkation at the time of established embarkation shall not be guaranteed either embarkation or any refund. 5) CANCELLATIONS AND REFUNDS: Except for what is foreseen by art. 400 Cod. Nav., the Company concedes that the passenger, who no longer intends or who can no longer depart, can seek for partial refund of the ticket price. Any cancellation or refund must be communicated in writing to the office located in Naples by fax at telephone number: 081 5752132 or by certified e-mail at: rimborso@tttlines.com, directly by the passenger himself or through the travel agency that issued the tickets and is subject to the following terms and penalties: from the booking date until 10 days until 3 days prior to departure 80% - until 3 days prior to departure 50% - until 24 hours prior to departure 25% (number of days does not include the day of cancellation). Any dues matured from the date of ticket issuance cannot be subject for refund. In calculating refunds, only the requested day of cancellation (with proof of receipt) shall be accepted. No refund shall be given to any cancellation on the day of departure nor to any shows at established time of embarkation is previous note has not been previously communicated to the Company of a circumstance stated in art. 400 Cod. Nav., nor to anyone who communicates partial cancellations at time of check-in for embarkation. 6) VARIATIONS: In case of ticket variations, a non-refundable mandatory fee of € 1000 shall be applied except in the case of a personally named passenger or vehicle ticket. Any eventual reduction in ticket price shall be subject to the penalties indicated in the above article have been applied. Any modification of the ticket price shall be subject to the penalties indicated in the above article have been applied. Any modification of the ticket price shall be subject to the penalties indicated in the above article have been applied. 7) EARLY/DELAYED DEPARTURES OR ARRIVALS: The Company is not responsible for delays or early arrivals. 8) LOADING, DISCHARGE AND TRANSFER OF VEHICLES: Vehicles that run on liquid gas must be declared at time of booking and loading. Alarm systems and electrical theft-proof devices and mechanisms must be switched off at time of loading. Vehicle loading operations, including their assigned parking space on board, the operations of loading, discharge, in addition to eventual transfer of vehicles to/from their parking space to the ship and/or eventual transfer of vehicles from the ship to their parking space, must always be done with extreme care and are at the passenger(s) exclusive risk and responsibility. Seeing the Transporter is in the responsibility for missing personal objects or luggage located in the vehicles at the moment of parking the passenger must pull the stationing brake, put the gear in neutral, check that all vehicle lights are switched off and ensure that all doors and boot (trunk) are well closed. Passengers are exclusively responsible for eventual damage done to a third party, their vehicles, goods and luggage therein contained. Eventual damage to vehicles or in the event of any other item of damage during transportation must be declared before disembarkation. In such a case, passengers have to sign a written report filled out by a ship official. 9) PASSENGER CONDUCT: Passengers must observe the provisions of Italian and foreign laws as well as to the ship Master's instructions and the present Company regulations which the passenger takes vision of at the moment of ticket purchase. All rules and regulations are also consultable on the company website: www.tttlines.it and at any authorized ticketing agency. Furthermore, the passenger is directly liable to the Company for any infringement, penalty, fine and expenses imposed on the Company by maritime port authorities, customs, health and/or any other authority in any Country as a consequence of his misconduct. Minors under 18 years of age but older than 14 may travel alone under the complete responsibility of a legal parent or guardian. Minors under 14 must travel accompanied by an adult and share the same accommodation. It is also agreed that passengers travelling with minors shall look after them and shall not allow them to wander unaccompanied while on the ship. In case of emergency, the passenger shall be at the disposal of the Master and Officers and shall strictly abide by their orders and instructions. In conformity to the anti-terrorist norms in vigour (ISPS), passengers can be, at any time, subject to passage inspection and be asked to exhibit valid identification on behalf of ship officers. 10) PASSENGER'S PHYSICAL/MENTAL STATE: The Master may refuse passage to the passenger who in the Company's opinion is not in either physical or mental condition to travel or to the passenger who, under the influence of drugs, hallucinating substances and/or alcohol may be dangerous to other passengers and for ship security. In such instances, the passengers shall not be entitled to any refund and shall be responsible for any damage caused to the vessel, its fittings and equipment. Any delays in departure to third parties as well as to the properties belonging to third parties. The acceptance of passengers on board shall not be considered as a waiver to the Company's right to enforce rules and norms. Any pregnant female passenger who embarks agrees to be solely responsible and accept the risks connected with not having any medical assistance on board nor the proper facilities manage any eventual emergency. Furthermore, the Company, the ship and its crew does not assume any responsibility and/or liability for transportation by sea neither in relation to eventual bad sea weather conditions nor in relation to the difficulties in accessing external assistance that may cause any negative consequence to a pregnant passenger. 11) DISABLED PASSENGERS AND PASSENGERS WITH LIMITED MOBILITY: In conformity to the norms in vigour, the ship has a limited number of cabins available for passengers with limited mobility and/or disabled passengers. The Transporter accepts advanced booking by disabled passengers and from passengers with limited mobility at the same conditions applied to all other passengers. In conformity to Regulation UE 1177/2010, it's the responsibility of the disabled passenger and the passenger with limited mobility to communicate, at the time of booking or advanced ticket purchase, their specific needs and/or any necessary assistance on board (seat, room, transportation of medical equipment) in writing. For any other assistance, these passengers must inform the Transporter or the terminal operator by email at least 48 hours prior to departure and they must be present at the designated area at least 60 minutes prior to departure. When observing obligations applied to International, European Community or National Security Legislation and complying with obligations in security established by competent authorities (by this it is intended when the port renders embarkation, disembarkation and/or safe transport impossible), the Transporter may refuse to accept a reservation, issue a ticket or embark a disabled passenger or a passenger with limited mobility. In such cases, the Transporter shall inform the disabled passenger or the passenger with limited mobility and proceed with a refund if a ticket has been issued. When absolutely necessary, the Transporter may require the passenger to be accompanied by another person who is able to furnish assistance. The person who accompanies the disabled passenger or passenger with limited mobility travels free of charge. Besides the rights indicated in Regulation UE 1177/2010, in case of loss and/or damage to auxiliaries used for mobility or to any other equipment specifically used for passengers with limited mobility, damages due shall correspond to the value of equipment replacement in question or, if necessary, to the cost of replacement. 12) EXPLOSIVES, FLAMMABLE AND DANGEROUS GOODS: It is strictly forbidden to the passenger to put in his luggage or personal belongings stored inside his vehicles any industrial waste or explosive and/or inflammable substance or any other materials that may be dangerous for the safety of the ship, its cargo or of other passengers and crew. In case of infringement of this prohibition, the Master shall have the power to confiscate or to destroy any such substance and/or material and passenger shall not be entitled to any indemnity. Furthermore, the passenger shall be liable for any consequence arising from the infringement of this prohibition. 13) WEAPONS: Upon embarkation the passenger shall hand over to the Master's custody any weapons and firearms in his/her possession. In case of infringement offenders may be subject to the confiscation of their weapons or firearms and to reference to the competent judicial authority. 14) LUGGAGE: All valuables, jewels, cash, credit cards, travellers' cheques etc. may be deposited in the ship's safe, where available, otherwise handed over in a sealed envelope to the Purser in exchange for a receipt without description of its contents. It is agreed that the carrier's liability for hand baggage or goods not handed over, is limited as follows: 15) LOSS OR DAMAGE TO LUGGAGE, PERSONAL BELONGINGS OR VEHICLES: Any apparent loss or damage to the luggage and/or personal belongings or vehicle shall be notified immediately to the Master or the Travel Agent or the Company's Officials at the port of destination. Non-apparent loss or damage shall be notified within three days of delivery in the same above manner. Failure to notify shall be deemed as delivery in good condition. Unless the passenger proves the Transporter caused any loss or damage, the Transporter shall not be held liable for loss and/or damage to luggage and properties not delivered by the passenger to the Transporter. The Transporter shall not be liable for loss or damage caused by vandalism committed by third parties. 16) ANIMALS: Passengers' small pets (cats, dogs, etc.) with good health certificate are welcome on board upon payment of the relevant fare. According to regulations, pets shall be kept in their dedicated areas only. The admission to cabins and public rooms is strictly forbidden. The passenger shall be liable for any damage whatsoever caused by his/her pets to things or third parties. The carrier disclaims all responsibilities for any quarantine or decisions of Health Authorities as well as for any injury suffered by pets as well as for their loss or death during the voyage or on embarkation and disembarkation. 17) ACCOMMODATION: The passenger is entitled to the accommodation stated on the ticket and failing that, to the accommodation assigned by the Master. The Purser. The Company is entitled to give a different accommodation to the passenger; if the accommodation given is of higher class, no fare difference shall be requested. 18) GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION: The contract of transportation of passengers, their luggage and vehicles is governed by and construed according to Italian law. Any claim or dispute relating to the validity and/or interpretation and/or execution of this contract shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of its legal headquarters. In addition, if a passenger is an Italian resident, and thus defined as a user and consumer, according to the Italian norm in vigour, the local jurisdiction of the consumer shall apply. 19) INFORMATION ON PASSENGERS: In accordance to the Law Decree n. 251/1999 of CEE Directive 98/41 dated 18.06.1998 and norms relative to the application of GPS code on the Norms of anti-terrorist at the time of booking and at time of ticket purchase, all passengers must communicate their ID information: name, surname, sex, age category (newborn, child, minor between 14 and 18, or adult). This personal data, following the present norm, shall be saved only for the time necessary according to the guidelines stated in the Law Decree and/or in compliance with Legislative Decree 196/2003
